

Vision

Define your north star - the life you're building toward

 Collapse All Sections

 The Eulogy Method

Imagine you've lived to 100. What would you want people to say about how you lived?

 Show tips

consistently, even when it was hard. They built things that lasted - not just products, but relationships and habits that compounded over time. They weren't the smartest person in the room, but they were reliable and kind. Most importantly, they helped others see what was possible when you commit to showing up every day.

 The Bucket List

Dream without limits - what do you want to do, be, learn, create, and experience?

 Show tips

2/8

☐

Run a marathon

☐

Learn conversational Spanish

☐

Visit Japan during cherry blossom season

☐

Write and publish a book

☐

Build a side project that earns $1k/month

☐

Complete a 10-day silent meditation

☒

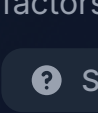

Read 100 books in a year

☒

Give a talk at a conference

Add another dream

 The Mission Prompt

How would you serve others if money and fear weren't factors?

 Show tips

To live with intention, building meaningful work that helps others while maintaining deep relationships and personal health. I want to look back and know I spent my time on what truly mattered - not just what was urgent.

 Example: "Help motivated people achieve more by building tools that bring balance between work and family life"

 Definition of Success

Imagine yourself in complete contentment. What does your life look like?

 Show tips

 Career

What does success look like here?

 Health

Waking up with energy, being able to play with future kids without getting winded, and having a body

 Relationships

A small circle of people who know the real me and call me out when I need it. A partner who challenges

 Financial

What does success look like here?

 Growth

Learning something new every week. Being uncomfortable regularly. Looking back each year

 Impact

What does success look like here?

 Odyssey Plan

3 possible life paths you could take over the next 5-10 years

 Show tips

 Current Path Primary

Where will you be in 5-10 years if you continue on your current trajectory?

Continue growing in my current role, get promoted to senior in 2 years, build side projects on evenings/weekends. Save aggressively. In 5 years: stable

 Alternative Path Plan B

If your current path wasn't available, what fulfilling alternative would you pursue?

Transition to a smaller company or startup. Less pay but more ownership and learning. Build expertise in a specific domain. In 5 years: recognized expert

 Radical Path Dream Big

If money, fear, and expectations weren't factors, what would you do?

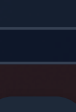

Quit in 6 months, travel for a year while building an online business. High risk but high learning. In 5 years: either built something meaningful or have an incredible

 Future Calendar

Your ideal days, 3 years from now

 Show tips

 Ideal Tuesday WORKDAY

3 years from now - your perfect productive day

6:00 - Wake naturally, no alarm. 6:15 - Morning workout (strength or run). 7:30 - Shower, healthy breakfast while reading. 8:30 - Deep work block #1 (most

 Ideal Sunday REST DAY

3 years from now - your perfect day of rest

8:00 - Sleep in, slow morning. 9:00 - Big breakfast, coffee, catch up on reading. 10:30 - Weekly review and planning. 12:00 - Outdoor activity (bike, hike, or just a long walk)

